Headline:

Sunny spells with isolated snow showers, mainly in the east.

Today:

A cloudy but dry start to the day for most, with isolated snow showers. Some sunny spells later, especially in the west, though snow showers could still crop up further east. Cold with a wind chill and risk of ice. Maximum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Tonight:

Clouding over but remaining dry for most. A small chance of a snow shower developing, mainly in the east. Very cold with a widespread frost. Minimum temperature -2 deg C (28 deg F).

Monday:

Sunny spells and isolated snow showers, the showers mainly in the north and east. Very cold with widespread frost and risk of ice at first. Even colder in easterly winds. Maximum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:

Rather cloudy on Tuesday and Wednesday, perhaps with a few snow showers, mainly in the south. Thursday dry for most but afternoon rain and snow may arrive from the southwest.
